

The aim of the Grant Program is to foster greater constructive collaboration among newsrooms across Europe.

These grants aim to increase the connections and cooperation between Western & Northern practitioners of solutions/constructive journalism and their counterparts in Central and Eastern Europe. Please provide the information below. This grant process will be managed and supported by the Constructive Institute, one partner of the SoJo Europe project. Please answer the questions below and let us know if you need any further clarifications.

Project outline

- Project title
- Project description - Why does the Constructive Institute need to support this project? (concise like a pitch)
- Team Members
- Media organisation/news room details

Method and timing

- Division of tasks within the team

- What is the expected timeline for your investigation? How long will your research/project take?

Analysis

- What is the core focus of the project?
- What does your preliminary research show?
- Describe in detail how you will incorporate constructive journalism approaches into your reporting project
- How will you learn from/collaborate with/connect with other newsrooms practicing constructive journalism in Europe?

How will your journalism find an audience?

- In which media form(s) will your story be published? (eg text, audio, video, event etc)
- Will this be a series? Y/N
- Clarify the structure of the project

Budget

- Total requested grant (in €)

(This amount should be the same as the total requested grant amount in the Budget you attach (see below))

- Upload a detailed budget in an Excel spreadsheet with your application

Mentor

- How else can Constructive Institute support you (other than financially) in this reporting project?